If Subscriber fails to furnish the desired security, Olyslager has the right without prejudice to its other rights, to immediately suspend the further performance under the Contract, and that which Subscriber owes to Olyslager for whatever reason will become immediately due and payable.

The Subscriber is fully responsible for implementing and/or using the API.

17.5 Olyslager may modify the API from time to time to fix errors or improve functionality. If a customization changes the technical interface, Olyslager shall give at least [60] days' notice to Subscriber.

17.6 Use of the API will be charged per number of times that the API is being called ('hit'). Subscriber is entitled to use the API in accordance with the Contract. Olyslager is entitled to charge Subscriber when Subscriber (or his Users) exceeds the agreed use of the API, at Olyslager's current rates. Olyslager's measurements are leading in this regard.

The use of the API by Subscriber must be reasonable (“fair use policy”). Use will in any case be considered to be excessive if Subscriber use more recommendations than is allowed based on the Contract. In this case, the use of these recommendations will be billed separately by Olyslager at then-current rates. In urgent cases, Olyslager may intervene the use of the API immediately (without warning). In addition, Olyslager may temporarily limit or discontinue the use of the API in the event of malfunctions or abuse. If Subscriber exceeds the normal use of the API, Olyslager shall not be liable if the API is no longer accessible or no longer operates properly. Further, Olyslager is entitled to limit or block the access to the API.

17.7 In case the Subscriber makes a mistake during the implementation process, scrapes any Olyslager Product or lacks implementing security measures which results in an excessive use of the API, the Subscriber will bear all related costs. The Subscriber is responsible for the reasonable use of the API and the related security measures.

18. TERM AND TERMINATION, REMEDIES

18.1 Unless specified otherwise in the Olyslager Purchase Specifications, the Term of the Contract shall commence upon the Commencement Date for an initial period one year, after which it will automatically renew with the same period of one year, unless terminated by a Party as set forth in this clause 18.

18.2 Either Party may terminate the Contract starting from the first renewal date of the Contract, taking at least three month’s written notice into account. Olyslager may in writing terminate the Contract with immediate effect if Subscriber fails to pay any sums payable under the Contract when they become due. Any outstanding invoices and invoices yet to be sent to cover the remaining duration of the Contract, regardless of who terminates the Contract, will become due immediately.

18.3 Either Party may terminate the Contract in writing for cause with immediate effect, if the other Party (i) breaches a material provision of the Contract, which breach remains uncured for thirty (30) days after written notice from the other Party; or (ii) becomes insolvent, is liquidated, makes a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, suffers or permits the appointment of a receiver for its business or assets. Upon expiration or termination of the Contract for any reason, all rights granted to Subscriber hereunder will terminate and Subscriber will immediately cease use of, and promptly return or destroy, Olyslager’s confidential information, at Olyslager’s sole discretion. The Subscriber shall provide evidence that the Olyslager’s confidential information is destroyed and will be liable for any damages related to the return and destruction of the Olyslager’s confidential information.

18.4 Any termination of the Contract shall be without prejudice to any legal rights or remedies a Party may be entitled to hereunder or at law and shall not affect any accrued rights or liabilities of either Party. The clauses 8, 9, 10, and 11 shall survive termination of the Contract.

18.5 Within 7 days of the termination of the Contract, the Subscriber shall in the case of Olyslager Products for use with computer equipment at Olyslager sole option either return or destroy all such copies of Olyslager Products in its possession or control and a duly authorized officer of the Subscriber shall certify in writing to Olyslager that the Subscriber has complied with this obligation.

18.6 Subscriber shall not be entitled to a refund of any Subscription Fee in case of the termination of the Contract.

Any and all obligations of Olyslager or Olyslager’s distributors to provide the Olyslager Products, as well as any other technical information or assistance shall be subject to the Export Laws. Subscriber warrants that it will comply with the Export Laws in effect from time to time as far as they relate to the Contract and its implementation.

Force majeure will in any case be understood to include power outages, internet failures, failures in the telecommunications infrastructure, network attacks (including (D)DOS attacks), attributable failures of suppliers, attacks by malware or other harmful software, internal civil commotion, mobilisation, war, terror, strikes, import and export barriers, a stagnation in supplies, fires, and floods. If a force majeure situation has lasted for more than 90 days, both Parties shall be entitled to terminate the Contract in writing with immediate effect.

25. SEVERABILITY

25.1 If any provision of the Contract, the Terms, or any other agreement between the Parties, is held to be null, void or otherwise ineffective or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, (i) such provision shall be deemed to be restated to reflect as nearly as possible the original meaning of the terms or agreement in accordance with applicable law, and (ii) the remaining terms, provisions, covenants and restrictions shall remain in full force and effect.

26. MISCELLANEOUS

26.1 Unless stated otherwise in writing, any and all agreements between the Parties shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, notwithstanding conflict of law principles, and without giving effect to the United Nations Convention on the Contracts for the International Sale of Goods. All disputes and controversies arising out of or relating to these Terms or the relationship of the Parties shall be finally and bindingly resolved under the International Arbitration Rules of the American Arbitration Association in front of a sole arbitrator. The place of arbitration shall be New York, New York. The language of the arbitration shall be English. Any award, verdict or settlement issued under such arbitration may be entered by any party for order of enforcement by any court of competent jurisdiction. 26.2 Olyslager retains the right to make unilateral changes or additions to the Terms, including in relation to existing Contracts. Contractual amendments also apply with respect to Contracts already concluded subject to a term of 30 (thirty) days following the announcement of the amendment by email to Subscriber.

26.3 If the amendment(s) referred to above have a significant negative impact on the (application of) the supply of Olyslager Products and/or Services or the Subscriber's position, Subscriber may terminate the Contract, provided Olyslager receives notice of termination prior to the date on which the change takes effect.

26.4 Minor amendments, amendments on the basis of the law and amendments to the benefit Subscriber can be implemented at any time.

26.5 Subscriber hereby authorizes Olyslager in advance to transfer the Contract concluded between the Parties in full, or parts thereof, to parent companies, sister companies and/or subsidiaries or a third party in the case of a merger or acquisition. Olyslager shall notify Subscriber if such a transfer has taken place.
